SourcePoint's Annual Campaign Supports Local Seniors and Caregivers Caring for Older Adults Under Our Roof—and Yours!

DELAWARE—On Nov. 1, SourcePoint launched its annual campaign to support adults ages 55 and better in Delaware County. Every day, SourcePoint works to provide vital services and programs that allow older adults to live safely and independently in their own homes, access community programs that promote health and wellness, and support family caregivers in their newfound roles.

"Throughout our Delaware County community, countless people know and rely on SourcePoint. But there is so much more to our organization than one might realize," said Fara Waugh, executive director. "SourcePoint is the most comprehensive aging services provider in the county. We are truly unique in everything we can provide from under one roof."

After the past year and a half of dealing with a pandemic and its ongoing challenges, "It has never been more important to support in-home care and services that socially engage older adults," Waugh added. "Our staff and volunteers are dedicated to empowering those we serve to live life to the fullest."

Since its establishment in 1992, SourcePoint has benefited from the support of the Delaware County community. Charitable gifts from individual and corporate donors help fill gaps that other funding sources cannot fully support, as well as keep pace with the rapid growth of the county's older population.
